

My Pledge of Purity

I believe God's plans for me are perfect. He gave me the gift of purity and for this; I choose to honour Him by guarding the purity of my mind, my heart and my body. By the grace of God, I vow to remain chaste and not give my body to be used, refused or abused.

I will wait upon God's will in choosing a life-partner and reserve intimacy for a covenant marriage relationship. I choose to be an example to my friends, peers and family that God's way is best.

From this day forward, regardless of my past, I pledge before God that I will remain pure because His plans for me are perfect.
